"FURS."

Facts about FURS and SEALSKIN and SEAL PLUSH GARMENTS. We are located at No. 61 Madison-st. (opp. McVicker's Theatre, in rear of Mr. David Allard's Hat Store). The reason why is, we don't care to pay the high rents for an exclusive store. We have without any doubt the most complete stock of Fine Sealskin and Seal Plush Garments, Beaver Shoulder Capes and Muffs, Ladies' Hats, Turbans, and Gloves, and Trimming Furs in this city. A visit of inspection will prove to the most skeptical that what we advertise is so. As seeing is believing, we cordially invite intending purchasers of Seal and Plush Wraps to give us a call. This is no HUMBUG SALE, but the start of a permanent business on an economical plan, where reliable Furs can be bought at manufacturers' wholesale prices.

We make to measure on short notice any desired style of Seal Garment of superior quality and finish.

We call special attention to our line of Imported Seal Plush Garments, manufactured expressly for us by the celebrated house of Messrs. A. E. Burkhardt & Co., for whom we are sole agents in Chicago. Examination invited.

WINTER DRY GOODS SALE.

S. M. ROTHSCHILD.

Our geographical position, with two hundred and forty-six Dry-Goods Houses, bids fair to make this the greatest Dry-Goods Mart in the world. "CAN'T FIND WHAT WE WANT"! is the utterance of thousands of eager buyers. WHY THIS? Because the Dry-Goods men meddle with every other business imaginable. Some young adventurers sell toys, crockery, and tinware; some keep patent medicines, furniture, and millinery; others keep boots, shoes, restaurants, and even live geese-feathers. All this shows that the Dry-Goods men want to swallow up every other branch of business they possibly can. WHY!—some of our oldest, richest, and most aristocratic Dry-Goods stores do even dressmaking. WHAT a pity it is that they can't make a living without taking the bread from the mouths of 720 dressmakers, all working hard to make an honest living. To many inquiries whether

I KEEP THE ONLY DRY GOODS STORE IN CHICAGO,

I would answer by saying that I keep the only Exclusive Dry-Goods Store in Chicago. The old and good proverb is, "Live and Let Live." Don't patronize those grasping and selfish men who want to do everybody's business under their own roof. Don't purchase your Dry Goods from firms who are running away with your own business, thereby making themselves richer and you poorer. Houses who are meddling with everybody else's business are hardly to be expected to keep up their legitimate stocks. I confidently say, and will prove it by thousands of good people who are daily visiting my crowded store, that

I KEEP THE BEST STOCK OF DRY GOODS IN CHICAGO

Without any exaggeration whatever. I will here state that each and every one of my departments are filled to their utmost capacity with goods of the highest grade and standard. Nothing is neglected or overlooked; the assortments are complete in every particular; everybody is suited and pleased with their purchases; everybody is delighted with the treatment they receive, and everybody is made happy in finding what they want in the Dry-Goods line

At Such Astonishing Low Prices Never Quoted Before.

DESPERATE BARGAINS!!

AT THE BEE-HIVE.

Tomorrow, Monday, occurs our Annual Opening of Winter Styles in Millinery, and in order to make same unusually interesting, we offer about $50,000 worth of goods at half price.

WHILE THE LOTS LAST.

We hope and expect they will hold out until the end of the week, but we cannot guarantee it. We desire to impress the reader that we are neither endeavoring to work off a lot of old or inferior goods by means of a sensational advertisement nor trying to attract a crowd by putting a few articles upon our counters at special prices for an hour or two and then telling customers that we are very sorry but the goods are all gone. Every article we advertise is just what we claim it to be.

The Billiard and Tricot Cloth which we advertise at 60c per yard is really worth $1.25; and we have of every lot of goods advertised a sufficient quantity on hand to supply our trade for about two weeks under ordinary circumstances.

THE SIMPLE TRUTH

is, we expect a rush tomorrow, and think it is only right to advise our patrons to come in time.

REMEMBER!

1st. That our DESPERATE BARGAINS are not confined to the few articles above enumerated; hundreds of lots will be purchased after this advertisement has gone to press, and some lots already purchased will not arrive before Tuesday or Wednesday, and are therefore not advertised.

2d. That the bargains enumerated above are not intended to supply the storekeeper, but will be sold exclusively to the consumer.

3d. That with the first ten thousand sales every purchaser will be presented with a beautiful Floral Picture Frame to remind the visitor of our Winter Opening of Millinery Novelties.

Mail Orders from consumers, not storekeepers, will receive prompt attention provided the goods are still on hand on receipt of order.
